INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Of Counsel

MARK R. GOLDSTICK, CPA

To the Members

Chicago Analytic Trading Company, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Chicago Analytic Trading Company, LLC as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of income (loss) and members' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Chicago Analytic Trading Company, LLC as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The additional information on pages 7 and 8 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. The additional information on page 7 has not been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it. The additional information on page 8 is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

1 - Nature Of Business

The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company was organized November 1, 2001 pursuant to the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act. Under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act, neither a member nor a manager of an LLC is personally liable for a debt, obligation, or liability of the LLC arising in a contract, tort, or otherwise.

The Company claims exemption to Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Rule 15c3-3 under subparagraph k(2)(B). The provision of the rule shall not be applicable to a broker or dealer who, as an introducing broker or dealer, clears all transactions with and for customers on a fully disclosed basis with a clearing broker or dealer, and who promptly transmits all customer funds and securities to the clearing broker or dealer which carries all of the accounts of such customers, and maintains and preserves such books and records pertaining thereto pursuant to the requirements of SEC Rules 17a-3 and 17a-4, as are customarily made and kept by a clearing broker or dealer.

2 - Summary Of Significant Accounting Policies

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

No provision for taxes on income is required since the members report their proportionate share of taxable income in their respective income tax returns. The Company is subject to certain state income taxes.

Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur. The Company clears its securities transactions through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis.

Certain reclassifications have been made to the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, to conform to the current year presentation without affecting net loss or members' equity as previously reported.

3 - Lease Commitments

The Company leased office space from an entity related through common ownership through October 2006, when the agreement was cancelled. Rent expense, including operating expenses and real estate taxes, was $180,791 for the year ended December 31, 2006.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

4 - Concentration Of Credit Risk

The Company maintains cash accounts at various financial institutions and has credit risk for balances in excess of federally insured limits.

5 - 401(k) Plan

The Company, along with an entity related by common ownership, sponsors a defined contribution 401(k) plan that covered eligible employees, as defined in the plan. Participants may contribute from 1% to 15% of their compensation. The Company made matching contributions of up to 100% of the first 4% contributed by the participants. Employer contributions to the plan for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 were $465 and $5,531, respectively.

6 - Related Party Transactions

During the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Company acted as an introducing broker to a limited liability company whose managing member is S4 Capital, LLC, a related entity through common ownership. Commissions earned through the trading activity of the limited liability company totaled approximately $16,357 and $20,700 for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

For the lease described in Note 3, the Company owes the related party unpaid rent of $30,320 and $125,320 as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

7 - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 (and the rule of the "applicable" exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1). The Company's SEC net capital requirement is the greater of $5,000 or 6 2/3% of the total aggregate indebtedness, calculated to be $2,075. As of December 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of $132,947 as calculated in accordance with Rule 15c3-1, which was $127,947 in excess of its SEC required net capital. The Company's net capital ratio was 0.23 to 1.

8 - Clearing Broker Requirements

The Company's clearing broker as of December 31, 2007 and 2006 requires the Company to maintain net equity equal to or greater than the amount required by the SEC net capital rules applicable to a correspondent introducing a broker as described in Note 7 or $100,000. The Company is also required to maintain a cash deposit with the clearing broker of $100,000.

Board of Directors Chicago Analytic Trading Company, LLC

Of Counsel
MARK R. GOLDSTICK, CPA

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Chicago Analytic Trading Company, LLC (Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007 in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purposes of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or a combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2007 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors and Members, management, the SEC, FINRA, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
